INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Governors of Toronto Metropolitan University

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Toronto Metropolitan University (the Entity), which comprise:

- the consolidated balance sheet as at April 30, 2024
- the consolidated statement of operations for the year then ended
- the consolidated statement of changes in net assets for the year then ended
- the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended
- and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies

(Hereinafter referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Entity as at April 30, 2024, and its consolidated results of operations and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the "Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our auditor's report.

We are independent of the Entity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Page 2

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Entity's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.
  - The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the group Entity to express an opinion on the financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

1. DESCRIPTION

Toronto Metropolitan University (the "University") was incorporated in 1948 under the laws of the Province of Ontario. The University began operating under the business name 'Toronto Metropolitan University' in April 2022. The University's legal name was formally changed to Toronto Metropolitan University through an act of the Ontario Provincial Parliament on December 8, 2022.

The mission of the University is the advancement of applied knowledge and research to address societal needs and the provision of programs of study that provide a balance between theory and application and that prepare students for careers in professional and quasi-professional fields. As a leader in applied education and innovation, the goal of the University is to be recognized for the excellence of its teaching, the relevance of its curriculum, the success of its students in achieving their academic and career objectives, the quality of its scholarship, research and creative activity, and its commitment to accessibility, lifelong learning, and involvement in the broader community.

These consolidated financial statements reflect the assets, liabilities, net assets, revenues, expenses and other transactions of all of the operations controlled by the University, including its wholly owned subsidiaries, Ryerson Futures Incorporated, operating as DMZ-Ventures and Cybersecure Catalyst. Accordingly, these consolidated financial statements include the academic, administrative, and other operating expenses funded by fees, grants and other general revenues; restricted purpose funds, including endowment, research and trust; and the ancillary operations, such as residences, food services and parking.

The University is a registered charity and, therefore, is exempt from income taxes under the Income Tax Act [Canada].

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Part III of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada ["CPA Canada"] Handbook, which sets out generally accepted accounting principles for not-for-profit organizations in Canada and includes the significant accounting policies set out below:

Cash and cash equivalents and investments

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand, high interest savings and guaranteed investment certificates ("GICs"), with a term to maturity of three months or less and which are readily convertible to cash on short notice. Investments with a maturity date greater than three months and less than one year are classified as short-term investments. Investments in excess of one year are classified as long-term investments. Management categorizes certain investments as long-term due to the nature of intent.

Inventories

Inventories, which consist of goods held for resale, are recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES [continued]

Employee future benefits

The University has defined benefit pension plans for its employees and provides other retirement benefits, such as extended health and dental care, for some of its employees. Accrued benefit obligations for all of the University's employee future benefit plans are determined in accordance with the CPA Canada Handbook Accounting Part III Section 3463.

The University recognizes the amount of the accrued obligation, net of the fair value of plan assets in the consolidated balance sheet. Current service and finance costs are expensed during the year. Remeasurements and other items which represent the total of the difference between actual and expected return on plan assets, actuarial gains and losses, and past service costs, are recognized directly in the consolidated statement of changes in net assets as a separately identified line item.

The cost of pensions and other retirement benefits earned by employees is determined using the projected unit credit (benefit prorate) cost method and management's best estimates regarding assumptions about several future conditions, including investment returns, salary changes, withdrawals, mortality rates and expected health care costs. The fair market value of assets is used for disclosure and calculation of pension cost, effective on the measurement date, which is April 30 of each year.

Contributions made to defined benefit plans during the year are included in the employee future benefits expense.

For benefit plans that do not required actuarial valuation to comply with legislation, regulatory or contractual requirements, the defined benefit obligation for these plans must be measured as of the consolidated balance sheet date using an actuarial valuation performed for accounting purposes, using discount rates provided by the Institute of Actuaries (CIA)/Fiera yield curve. Prior to fiscal 2023, these obligations could have been measured using actuarial valuation that were for funding purposes.

Capital assets

Capital assets acquired and constructed by the University are recorded at cost. Contributions of capital assets are capitalized at fair value at the date of contribution. Capital assets that are newly acquired, constructed or developed are componentized according to their useful life, and amortized on a straight-line basis as follows:

Buildings

Shell 40 years
Services system, roofing 25 years
Interior construction 15 years
Equipment and furnishings 3 - 10 years
Library books 5 years
Leasehold improvements Over lease term

Year ended April 30, 2024

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES [continued]

Costs of capital projects in progress, including interest, are capitalized. Interest costs are capitalized during the construction period. There were no temporary or partial impairments or disposals of assets during the year. Amortization is not recognized until project completion.

Collections

Collections of artwork, substantially all received as gifts are recorded as income and expense at their appraised value in the period received.

Revenue recognition

The University follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions, which includes donations and government grants. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Contributions externally restricted for purposes other than endowment are deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are recognized. Endowment investment income for restricted endowments is deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are recognized. Donation pledges are not recorded since they are not legally enforceable claims. Endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in net assets in the year in which they are received. Student fees are recognized as revenue when courses and seminars are held. Sales and services revenue is recognized at point of sale or when the service has been provided.

Foreign currency translation

Monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate in effect at year end. Operating revenues and expenses are translated at average rates prevailing during the year. Gains or losses arising from these translations are included in the consolidated statement of operations.

Contributed services

An indeterminable number of hours are contributed by volunteers each year. However, because of the difficulty of determining their fair value, contributed services are not recognized in these consolidated financial statements.

Use of estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the year. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the valuation of derivatives and employee future benefits. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Financial instruments

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Freestanding derivative instruments that are not in a qualifying hedging relationship and equity instruments that are quoted in an active market are subsequently measured at fair value. Investments in equity instruments that are not quoted in an active market are measured at cost, less any reduction for impairment. All other financial instruments are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value. The University has elected to continue to carry any such financial instruments at fair value.

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year. If there is an indicator of impairment, the University determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset or the amount the University expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

Capital management

The University manages its capital by maintaining optimum levels on an ongoing basis. The objective is to ensure an adequate supply for operations while maintaining the flexibility to maximize investment returns and/or to reduce the cost of any potential external financing.

The levels of liquid resources are considered in the annual budget process. Cash flows are monitored on a daily basis, and actual operating results are compared to budget on a quarterly basis. The consolidated financial statements are augmented by reports that detail the liquid inflows and outflows.

4. EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS

The University has defined benefit pension plans, being the Toronto Metropolitan University Pension Plan ("TMUPP"), Total Earnings Supplementary Plan and the Supplemental Retirement Pension Plan. Other non-pension defined benefit plans provide other post-retirement and post-employment benefits to most of its employees. Certain faculty are members of the Teachers' Superannuation Fund, a multi-employer defined benefit plan.

The University's pension plans are based on years of service and the average pensionable salary over a consecutive 60-month period. Pension benefits are indexed to inflation and will be increased each year in accordance with the increases to the Consumer Price Index ["CPI"] to a maximum CPI increase of 8%. Any increases in the CPI above 8% will be carried forward and added in years when the CPI is less than 8%.

Other non-pension defined benefit plans are for faculty early retirees where the University pays 100% of the premium for medical, dental and life insurance until the age of 65. All retirees after the age of 65 are required to pay their own premiums for medical and dental benefits.

The latest filed actuarial valuation for the TMUPP which represents the vast majority of the obligations, was performed as at March 31, 2022. The next required actuarial valuation for the TMUPP is March 31, 2025. The University measures its accrued benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets as at April 30.

4. EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS [continued]

The principal actuarial assumptions adopted in measuring the University's accrued benefit obligations and expense for defined benefit plans are as follows:

	2024		202	23
	Pension benefit plans %	Other benefit plans %	Pension benefit plans %	Other benefit plans %
Accrued benefit obligation:

Hospital	_	4.00	_	4.00
Other medical	_	4.00	_	4.00
Dental	_	4.00	_	4.00

The University has elected to use the funding valuation approach for TMUPP financial accounting purposes. Funding requirements for TMUPP determined on the basis that plan continues indefinitely consider two actuarial measurement approaches. In accordance with the most recent funding report filed with the regulators, the first approach determines obligations using a net discount rate of 6.00% and second approach determines obligations using a discount rate of 8.40% and obligations were than increased to include a explicit PfAD of 16.1%. The second approach is required to be used to determine TMUPP obligations for financial accounting purposes.

9. LONG-TERM DEBT AND DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS [continued]

The long-term debts are unsecured; however, in the event of default, the bank and lenders may impose additional requirements.

The fair value of the long-term debt, except for debentures, approximates its carrying value as the rates fluctuate with bank prime.

The following are the future minimum annual debt principal repayments due over the next five fiscal years and thereafter:

2025	6,377
2026	6,746

[b] Derivative financial instruments:

The University has Interest Rate Swap Agreements ["Agreements"]. The TD agreement will expire on July 4, 2034 and the BMO agreement originally set to expire on January 1, 2031. Under the terms of the agreement, the University agrees with the counterparty to exchange, at specified intervals and for a specified period, its floating interest on the TD Loan [note 9[a]] for fixed interest of 4.675% for the TD agreement and 5.705% for the BMO Loan Agreement calculated on the notional principal amount of each loan. The use of the swap effectively enable the University to convert the floating rate interest obligations of the loans into fixed rate obligations and thus, manage its exposure to interest rate risk. The swap with BMO was terminated on December 8, 2023 resulting in a breakage fee of $1,950.

10. DEFERRED LONG-TERM REVENUE

On February 9, 2023, to monetize the value of the Daphne Cockwell Centre ["DCC"] residence facility, the University entered into two simultaneous lease-leaseback Agreements of same duration (50 years less one day) with a third party. Under the lease, the residence was leased to the third party for an upfront consideration of $50,000. The University then entered into a leaseback Agreement of the DCC residence at annual lease payment of $2,200 with a Consumer Price Index step-up every five years. Overall, the University continues to retain control and substantially all the benefits and risks of asset ownership of the residence. The upfront consideration is reported as deferred long-term revenue and will be amortized on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. The remaining long-term deferred revenue balance as at April 30, 2024 is $47,748 [2023 - $48,750].

The University ensures, as part of its fiduciary responsibilities, that all funds received with a restricted purpose are expended for the purpose for which they were provided. The University has established a policy with the objective of protecting the real value of the endowments. The amount of income made available for spending is prescribed annually and an amount is added to endowment net assets for capital preservation. ## 21. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The University is exposed to various financial risks through transactions in financial instruments. There have been no significant changes in risk exposure as compared to the prior year, unless otherwise indicated.

Liquidity risk:

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. All of the University's investments, held from time to time, are considered to be readily realizable as they are listed on recognized stock exchanges and can be quickly liquidated at amounts close to their fair value in order to meet liquidity requirements.

Interest rate risk:

The value of fixed income securities, held from time to time, will generally rise if interest rates fall and fall if interest rates rise. The value of securities will vary with developments within the specific companies or governments which issue the securities. See Note 9[b] for interest rate risk related to debt.

Credit risk:

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty may default on its contractual obligations, resulting in a financial loss. The University is exposed to credit risk with respect to investments and accounts receivable. The University assesses, on a continuous basis, accounts receivable and provides for any amounts that are not collectible in the allowance for doubtful accounts.

Market risk:

The value of equity securities changes with stock market conditions, which are affected by general economic and market conditions. The University manages the market risk of its investment portfolio by investing in pooled funds in a widely diversified group of asset classes managed by external investment managers.

Foreign exchange risk:

The value of securities denominated in a currency other than the Canadian dollar will be affected by changes in the value of the Canadian dollar in relation to the value of the currency in which the security is denominated.
