

2025-2026 Ted Rogers MBA Indigenous Graduate Leadership Awards

The Ted Rogers MBA Indigenous Graduate Leadership awards are available to domestic full-time or flex full-time (3-5 course credits per semester) Master of Business Administration applicants accepted into graduate studies. These candidates would be pursuing their studies at Ted Rogers School of Management during the 2025-2026 academic year and self-identify as Indigenous.

This award seeks to address the historical inequities in access to graduate education in Canada experienced by Indigenous students and the underrepresentation of Indigenous students within MBA programs. The criteria for the awards are based on demonstrated leadership, community involvement and financial need.

The expendable funds will provide up to two (2) $10,000 awards for the 2025-2026 academic year.

WHO CAN APPLY?

- Candidates who are Canadian citizens, landed immigrants/permanent residents or protected persons who have been issued a Protected Persons Status Document (PPSD) and have been accepted to the Ted Rogers MBA Full-Time or Flex Full-Time MBA Program.
- Candidates who self-identify as an Indigenous person to the land we know as Canada (including First Nations (Status/Non-Status), Metis, or Inuit cultural and/or ancestral background)

TO APPLY

- Provide a 500-word statement outlining your leadership and community involvement, demonstrating the financial impact of the award and sign the declaration.
- Email the form to mba@torontomu.ca using the subject line Ted Rogers MBA Indigenous Graduate Leadership Award by the March 1, 2025 first consideration date. Award applications will be reviewed on an ongoing basis past this deadline date based on funding availability.
